Buy American Act

Buy American Act

The Buy American Act requires the U.S. Government (and in certain situations state governments) to prefer U.S. made products in its purchases. Pursuant to this Act, a manufactured good used as construction material in a project funded by the federal government requires that a product be manufactured in the United States be more than 65% U.S. fabricated, assembled, materials, components and parts to be considered “Made in the U.S.” for government procurement purposes (60% component cost requirement).

More information on this topic may be found by reviewing the “Buy America” Act at 41 U.S.C. §§ 10a-10c, and the Federal Acquisition Regulations at 48 C.F.R. Part 25, and the Trade Agreements Act at 19 U.S.C. §§ 2501-2582.
